

Please do not weaken INDIANA'S TELEPHONE PRIVACY LAW.

I lived previously in Utah, where they could not prevent telephone solicitors, and the phone would ring continuously. If I hadn't wished to have internet dial up, I would have cancelled the phone completely. You can ignore the phone, but they just keep calling back. There was not way to shield yourself from them. Indiana has been wonderful. Please don't change the laws and let us keep our homes to ourselves.

Thank You,

W. Richard Croft